STANDARDS OF BEHAVIOR

Homeschoolers of Collier County is designed to support families based on a common interest in homeschooling. One important way is to provide field trips and activities for education and socialization. The transition from a traditional school to homeschooling can be eased by helping your child understand the following rules:

- No swearing * No running, jumping, climbing where inappropriate
- No destruction of property * No disrespectful or rowdy behavior

PRIVACY

Members of HOCC expect a reasonable amount of privacy on our online forum. Please do not forward e-mails from our members without permission from the author of the e-mail or post.

RELEASE OF LIABILITY

Activities such as field trips and park days are planned and organized by volunteer members of our group. Most activities are advertised in our schedule of events. If you wish to participate in an activity, you will be assuming complete responsibility and liability for yourselves and your personal property during any part of the activity including transportation. Parents are also responsible for monitoring their children's behavior during activities. Please consider the activities involved in each event and the suggested age level.

AGREEMENT

I have read both the STANDARD OF BEHAVIOR guideline and the RELEASE and I agree that my family will honor such at all functions held by the HOMESCHOOLERS OF COLLIER COUNTY, INC. I understand that participation in field trips and activities is voluntary. Further, I release the HOMESCHOOLERS OF COLLIER COUNTY, INC., its representatives, and assignees from all liability for any injury my family or dependents as a result of participating in said field trips and activities.
